To whom it may concern,

For several years I have been under the care of Dr. Brad Elkins of Ophthalmology Associates in Encino, CA. At the forefront of his profession, it has been a pleasure checking in with him during annual visits. When it was time for cataract extractions, Dr. Elkins convinced me that the operation was a piece of cake, a walk in the park. I laughed, but deep down I was apprehensive. At the appointed time, I went across the street from his office to the surgery center. I was escorted into the operating area and placed on a mechanized bed. Drops were placed in my right eye, anesthesia administered, pulse taken and blood sample. Dr. Elkins walked in, greeted me, and then performed a lens insertion to remove the cataract. He asked how I felt. I said, "Fine, I'm ready for the procedure". He responded, "It's all over. Your eye looks terrific. We'll call the person you designated to take you home. See you in a couple of days". And that was it.

So, you ask me about Dr. Elkins? Simply the best!

Sincerely,

Tommy Cook
